M.G. Light Weds Ensign Bryce On June 23

On Tuesday evening, June 23, in the College Church, Mary Grace Light '42, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. V. Earl Light, became the bride of Ensign George Bryce, a student at Lebanon Valley College prior to his enlistment in the Naval Air Corps. Dr. William A. Wilt, assisted by the Reverend Harvey Klaer, of Philadelphia, performed the single ring ceremony. Virginia Goodman '42 presided at the console of the organ.

Mrs. Bryce is a graduate of Annville High School and the Lebanon Valley College Conservatory of Music. During her campus career she was associated with the Women's Commuters Council, Delta Lambda Sigma Literary Society, and the College Symphony, Band, Chorus, and Glee Club. The bridegroom is a graduate of Olney High School, Philadelphia. He attended the Germantown Academy and Lebanon Valley College, 1939-41. On the L. V. C. campus he was a student in the C. P. T., a member of the fencing team and the Philokosmian Literary Society, and the manager of the football team.

The newlyweds will reside in San Diego, California.

Summer Survey Finds L. V. Students Working Hard

When you get to Hershey Park look for these: Verna Stonecipher at the swimming pool; Patty Bartels in the salesroom of the Experimental Bakery; Bob Whistler in the Penny Arcade; Ross Albert at the kiddies' rides; Betty Ann Moyer in the souvenir building; Sally Porter in the cafeteria; Ed Schnee and Walt Ebersole at the refreshment stands; and LeRoy Yeatts, Lois Seavers, and Sidney Bashore almost any place.

Many of our students are helping Uncle Sam in civilian capacities. You find Herbie Altman at the Indiantown Gap Military Reservation. In Middletown at the Air Depot you'll see "Chic" Edwards, Clayton Hollinger, Arthur Terr, George Huff and Russell Aurentz. At the New Cumberland supply depot you'll be able to contact Roger Morey and Earl Reber. Still with Uncle Sam, you'll find Fritz Delduco, Nick Dorazio, and John Chambers at Mechanicsburg. Finally, our Phyllis Deitzler makes cartridge belts at Catawissa, Pa.

David Gockley is employed in Dayton, Ohio, as he waits for his turn to matriculate at Bonebrake Theological Seminary.

Jesse Robertson and Ann Collins are dipping popsicles at Hershey's in Harrisburg. While you're in Harrisburg stop at Pomeroy's basement to see Bobby Kishpaugh, or at the grille room of the Penn Harris to see Kitty Deibler. Miriam Jones can be found in Green's five-and-dime, Harrisburg, during store hours. John Horn is working for the Harrisburg Department of Health.

Carmean Organizes Pee Wee Symphony

Doubtless we have all noticed that across the campus every morning go many children carrying musical instruments. They are attending a six-weeks summer session of instrumental music. Classes which are open to all school children of Annville meet every day. Twice a week, the entire group meets together.

One purpose of these classes is to stimulate an interest and accomplishment in the study of some instrument. Another is that the classes might produce talent for the instrumental organizations of the Annville schools and also of the community.

The response to the summer session has been very favorable; in fact, it exceeded expectations for sixty-three children between the ages of seven and fourteen have enrolled. On the first day, a traffic tie-up resulted from the abundance of bicycles. The response also exceeded the facilities for the rental of instruments belonging to the Conservatory. Cornet and trumpet.

Marian Kreider Appoints Quittie Staff for '44

Marian M. Kreider, editor of the 1944 Quittapahilla, has made a tentative announcement of the staff for the '44 edition of the college annual. Though the announced staff has already begun its work, it is subject to change by additions and reorganization.

Assisting the editor are associates Dorothy Jean Light and Harry Miller. Betty Minnick, Jo Marie Shannon, Samuel Beamesderfer, and Bruce Souders will serve as literary editors, while Martha Wilt and Jack McFadden will edit women's and men's sports respectively. Emma Catherine Miller with the assistance of persons to be named later will cover the activities of the Conservatory of Music.

Engaged to handle the art work of the '44 "Quittie" are Ruth Graybill and Charles Newbaker, Barbara Converse is in charge of organization activities.

Business Manager Ed Stansfield has not announced his staff to date.

Honored

Dr. H. H. Shenk

College Library Names Collection For Dr. H. H. Shenk

The library of Lebanon Valley College has set aside a room to house a new collection of books named in honor of Dr. H. H. Shenk, Professor of History and former state archivist of Pennsylvania, it was announced today. The Hiram Herr Shenk collection, as it is called, will be devoted to books relating to the southeastern section of Pennsylvania, where the blending strains of Pennsylvania German, Scotch-Irish, and Welsh have produced a distinctively American culture.

Miss Helen Ethel Myers, the college librarian, has announced that alumni and other friends of the college are contributing generously to the building of the collection. Already a good nucleus has been assembled of books written about this part of Pennsylvania, and of books published in this section. Early imprints are especially desired.

A distinctive feature of the Shenk collection is a book-case containing such volumes as might have been found on the shelves of a typical Pa. German home a 100 years ago.

L. V. C. Conducts Assembly Rally

The eighteenth annual summer assembly and leadership training school of the East Pennsylvania Conference of the United Brethren Church held its annual college night rally on Saturday night, June 27, at Mt. Gretna, with Lebanon Valley College in charge of the program. Dr. H. H. Shenk was the presiding officer.

Dr. Clyde A. Lynch, president of Lebanon Valley College, extended greetings on behalf of the college.

Cyril Little was in charge of the devotions. He was followed by Howard Paine who spoke on the various phases of college life. His theme was "Why Have I Found Lebanon Valley College Such A Desirable Place?"

Members of the Conservatory of Music also appeared on the program. They were Marvin Detamble, violinist; Marguerite Martin, soprano, and John Talnack, cornetist. Marguerite Martin sang "O Divine Redeemer" and John Talnack played "The Carnival of Venice." Rae Sechrist and Hazel Fornoff were the accompanists.

U. S. Military Units Promote L. V. C. Alumni

Robert S. Grimm, '40, son of Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Grimm, has been recently promoted to the rank of lieutenant, junior grade, in the U. S. Navy.

Second Lieutenant Paul Ulrich, '38, has been promoted to the rank of first lieutenant in the U. S. Army Air Corps. He is stationed at Newfoundland.

John Stanley Deck has been advanced to the rank of Technical Sergeant in the Army. He is stationed at Camp Wheeler, Georgia.

Private Robert E. Dinsmore, '40, has been selected to make a morale building tour of the United States. He is stationed with the Army at Camp Lee, Virginia.

Dr. Butterwick Former Faculty Member, Dies

Professor Emeritus at L. V. C. Since 1938 Expires June 14 at his Annville Home

Dr. Robert Reuben Butterwick, for many years Professor of Philosophy and Religion at Lebanon Valley College, died on Sunday morning, June 14, at 5:00 a. m. at his home, 218 East Maple Street, Annville.

Dr. Butterwick, the son of the Rev. Francis James Butterwick and Mary Jane, nee Shaeffer, of Lebanon, was born December 2, 1869, at Breinigsville, Lehigh County. He attended the Annville Normal School and for a time taught in the public schools of the Commonwealth. Later he went to Lebanon Valley College, where he received the degree of A. B. in 1901, of M. A. in 1904, and the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity in 1910. From Lebanon Valley College he went to Bonebrake Theological Seminary, Dayton, Ohio, where he received his B. D. degree in 1905.

For many years he served as a pastor in the Church of the United Brethren in Christ. He received his Quarterly Conference license in 1890 and his Annual Conference license in 1891. He was ordained in 1895.

During 1906-1907 he was attached to Lebanon Valley College as Field Agent, and in 1914 he was elected a trustee of the College. In 1921 he became a member of the faculty and head of the Department of Philosophy and Religion, a position which he held until failing health necessitated his retirement in 1938. For many years he served as President of the Athletic Council at the College.

Dr. Butterwick was an active man. He was the Statistical Secretary of the East Pennsylvania Conference

Navy School of Music Accepts Tony Gerace

Anthony Joseph Gerace, a junior at the Lebanon Valley College Conservatory of Music, left Wednesday, July 1, for induction into the Navy. Tony has been studying for the degree of Bachelor of Science in Music Education in order to be a teacher of Public School Music. While at college he specialized in the clarinet, and took a prominent part in the College Band, the Orchestra, and the Chorus.

Tony, who has been accepted for entrance into the U. S. Navy School of Music, joins the large number of L. V. C. Conservatory students and graduates whom Uncle Sam is using in the various military bands. If battles are not fought to music, at least it is certain that Robert Hackman, '41, Herbert Curry, '42, Franklin Unger, '44, James Yestadt, '43, and Loy Ebersole, '43, are helping the U. S. A. in Army, Navy, and Air Corps Bands to put soldiers, sailors, and civilians alike into the mood in which wars are won.

It is gratifying to note that none of the students of the Conservatory who requested admittance in any of the military bands were denied their request.

Dr. Lynch's Greetings To The Summer-School Students

An ancient Book declares that "there is no new thing under the sun." However, for the La Vie Collegienne to appear now is just as unusual as a midsummer snow storm, but, of course, not so improbable. Those who have conceived the idea of a summer La Vie, as well as those who have actualized it, are to be congratulated.

Fortunately Lebanon Valley College was not required to change its administrative set-up to meet the exigencies of war. By extending our Summer School from six to twelve weeks we have provided for the acceleration of our work sufficiently to save one full year. This has been done as a favor to our students and in cooperation with the Government, which needs a more rapidly prepared leadership on both the military and civilian fronts.

Formerly, our Summer School was largely detached and devoted almost exclusively to class-room activities; but I am pleased to observe the trend toward a richer social life and various extra-curricular activities. While the play boy and girl have become PERSONAE NON GRATAE on a wartime campus, it is highly important that certain normal activities should be maintained. Should the war continue, there is likely to be little difference between the traditional semesters and the summer term.

The Faculty and the Board of Trustees have authorized three commencement dates for the convenience of students who are pursuing our accelerated program: the regular spring commencement, the commencement at the end of Summer School; and an inter-semester commencement. This is also something new under the sun at Lebanon Valley College.

As President of the College, I extend to all of our summer-school students a hearty welcome. I hope that you may profit by and enjoy every minute of your sojourn with us. While we cannot control the weather, it will be reassuring for you to know that it is usually warmer elsewhere than in Annville, where we have the shady campus and the delightful country-side to cool our study-fevered brows; and while our mosquitoes seem to be larger and more active this summer, they are not so large and vigorous as those of the New Jersey variety. On the other hand what is more beautiful in the evening than to see the fireflies make their ascent from the grass, illuminating the campus like tiny dancing lanterns. Everything has its compensations — even Summer School.

Merci Beaucoup

To have an issue of La Vie Collegienne during the Summer School term is unusual but not uncalled for. News is being manufactured at a rapid pace. The students of Lebanon Valley College and Summer School are by no means non-productive in this field. Some are making military history, some getting married and others working to earn for next semester's bills.

Your editor is delighted to have been able to be of assistance in editing a streamlined La Vie. He wishes to thank all for their co-operation. Having no connection with Summer School makes it difficult to edit a paper of interest to the students on campus. Co-operation has bridged the gap sufficiently well.

Last but not least, the editor wishes to thank those who placed their confidence in his work.

DISC DATA

Undoubtedly the most popular composition ever written by Franz Schubert is his Symphony No. 8 in B Minor, "The Unfinished." This work was published over thirty years after Schubert's death along with scores of other compositions also published posthumously. The Unfinished Symphony was first performed in Vienna in the year 1865, and was published in 1867. Through its command of popular taste it has been made the subject of many novels and movies. The cinema version would have us believe that Schubert wrote this symphony for his charming young pupil, Carolyn Esterhazy, who was sympathetic towards him, but not in love with him. Since she married another before Schubert finished the work he laid it aside in its incomplete form because his love for her was never consummated. Paul H. Lang in his volume Music in Western Civilization offers the hypothesis that the symphony is a complete work of art, and that since it was not his last symphony the sentimental conception held by some that he did not finish it because of his untimely death is false. Mr. Lang continues to say that Schubert did not finish the work for the same reason that Beethoven did not finish two of his sonatas; because his mood for it was completely exhausted. Schubert offered the symphony as a present to the city of Graz for its presentation to him of an honorary membership in its musical society. The Symphony in B Minor is a more than delightful mixture of the classic and the romantic. Schubert's romanticism represents a break with the past, for Beethoven was at this time in command of the classical symphonic form. One might say that the Unfinished Symphony is romantic in theme and classic in form, with the romantically melodic strains being dominant. This gives the symphony

Army and Navy Employ Like Plans

The War Department today announced its Enlisted Reserve Corps plan for college students. In general it calls for the voluntary enlistment in the Army Enlisted Reserve Corps of a certain number of college students possessing superior qualification, such students to remain for the time being in an inactive status in order to continue their education.

The Army and Navy alike appreciate the spirit of patriotism and self-sacrifice which has led an increasing number of young men to forego, in whole or in part, a college education in order to be immediately available to the armed forces through enlistment. The Army and Navy recognize, however, that it is imperative to the success of the war effort that there continue to flow not merely into industry but also into the armed forces numbers of men having the requisite educational background for rapid assimilation into certain increasingly technical fields of industrial and military service.

The country can no longer afford to have young men proceed with their education at a moderate tempo. Extra curriculum activities not specifically directed toward physical or mental preparation for participation in the war effort can no longer be encouraged. In war times, recreation in college life must be limited to that necessary for a healthy and well-rounded existence. In other words, the colleges in war time must be places of intensive effort and accomplishment. For those colleges which are prepared to proceed with education along these lines, and for those young men who are prepared to enter or remain in college with these purposes and who have the qualities of mind and character to carry them out, the Army and Navy urge the continuance of college education. The Army and Navy will enlist a substantial number of such men in the appropriate enlisted reserve corps, and under present conditions will leave them on an inactive status to continue their education, subject to immediate call of the Secretary of War or the Secretary of the Navy if for any reason this should thereafter be deemed necessary. Appropriate examinations will be given in the second year, and any men who do not meet the required educational standard, or who otherwise are not deemed to be carrying on their education with promise of developing capacities of leadership will be called to active duty at once.

Now Don't Say I Told You, But...

Summer School has come and is going. By this time we're all used to tumbling out of our beds and tearing to our 7:30 classes, sleepy-eyed though we may be. The old saying of L. V. never seeing a dull moment still holds true despite these damp-and-dewy days - - - jah wohl, here 'tis—the latest of the latest, or gossip incognito - - -

First and foremost our "get-well-quick" wishes to Tony Wallace for a speedy recuperation after his tussle with the germs - - - Also to flue-fighting Bob Donough.

FLASH - - - What have we heard about Mrs. Jane Kreider's attending the Bread Loaf Conference? Don't leave your husband too long, he may knead you.

COUPLINGS, or where's your better half? - - - Many of the campus dolls are hounding the post office attendants for letters from the Army, the Navy and all points west - - - Barb almost jumped out the third-story window last week when alumnus Mandle choo-chooed to the campus on the 7:12 - - - Porter is just far enough from Johnnie to have distance lend enchantment, yet close enough to have him hop in occasionally - - - Don Bartley dashes madly home on week-ends - - - could it be to see Katy? - - - We've noticed that the new-comer Charlotte Mohler and Abie have formed a mutual musical appreciation society - - - did I say musical? - - - McGeehin and Gollam and Yannaccone and Cox certainly have free range of the parlors these days - - - it's never necessary to beat the other couple out since they're the only steadies.

ATTENTION VERDI - - - La Donna Mobile, phoeey, everytime we peek into the obscure corners we see Mobley escorting a different dame.

EXODUS FOR PLEASURE - - - L. V. was well represented at the Hershey Park Ball Room when Jimmy Dorsey put in his appearance (in case you're interested, Dorsey broke Glenn Miller's record for packing crowds into the Ball Room) - - - Students and faculty yielded to the urge and attended the Barnum and Bailey Circus in Harrisburg.

THE HELPING HAND - - - Neidig thought the best way to acquire a new gym would be to burn down the Ad Building - - - oh look at the windows now—well it was an idea even tho' it didn't work.

JUST GOSSIP - - - In these warm days of wide open windows the Conservatory again takes priorities. You can hear the Conservives from the cemetery to the Quittie, from the Terrace to Harry's, or shall I say from Cleona to Palmyra? - - - The Dorm students are flourishing fat and frivolously on the meals in North Hall. The meals are served A la Loose and are really tres good - - - I know about thirty people who are patiently waiting for the Astor to open - - - 't' pears that even a double feature Western would be welcome, let alone one of the oomph girls or Killer Cagney - - - The red shades on the physiognomies of several North Hall lassies is not due to blushing - - - oh no! - - - it's only the results of lying on the roof and trying to get toasted to a golden brown instead of the half-baked color which now covers them.

Well, chickens, I s'pose I just don't get around but the news is all (gone).

Pee Wee Symphony

pet are the most popular instruments; clarinet comes second. Other instruments that are being studied are violin, drum, horn, trombone, flute, and tuba. One student enrolled in cornet, clarinet and drum—all in three days, but he remained on the drum.

The organization of the classes is the same type that is being used in the Hershey Public Schools during the regular school year. Student teachers, of which there are five this summer, instruct the classes. The five teachers are Lucille Koons, Albert Morrison, Charles Shamon, Hans Uberseder, and James Yestadt. Each teacher has, on the average, four classes a day. The classes are so arranged that all students who are studying the same type of instrument meet at the same time. The classes, however, are further divided into groups according to the progressive advancement of the students.

The only charge for the summer classes is a two dollar rental fee for an instrument. The children seem to feel that in order to be prompt for a ten o'clock lesson, they should be at the Conservatory about twenty minutes after eight. This causes a problem about what to do with them in the meantime, for they will not stay away. The people of Annville are made conscious of this instrumental summer session by the practicing of the students while enroute home. We hope that Professor Carmean has much success with his "pee wee philharmonic."

The Navy's V-1 Plan under which Freshmen and Sophomores from 17 through 19 years of age can continue their courses and prepare to become officers in the Naval Reserve has been accepted by our school. Hundreds of colleges and universities are backing the Navy's V-1 program, and thousands of students in other schools have already enlisted under this plan.

Only 80,000 men will be accepted annually for this training, but the Navy wants these men to be fully acquainted with all V-1 details before enlistment. Many questions have been asked. In this column we will answer those most frequently asked and in addition carry informative articles covering all phases of V-1 activities. Some questions asked are:

Q. I am a sophomore and will be 20 years old next month. Can I enlist in V-1?

A. Yes. If you have not yet reached 20 and you are otherwise qualified, you're eligible.

Q. When the war ends, do I stay in the Service?

A. Under V-1, you enlist in the Naval Reserve. As an enlisted man or as an officer, you may be released from active duty as soon as possible after the war is over.

Q. Will the Navy pay my tuition and other expenses while I am still in college under the V-1 plan?

A. No. Navy pay does not start until you are assigned to active duty.

Q. What is the citizenship requirement for acceptance for V-1?

A. Applicants for V-1 must have been citizens for at least 10 years before the date of application.

Summer School Enrolls Many In Speeded Program

With student interest concentrated on an accelerated educational program, the Lebanon Valley College Summer School boasts an unusually heavy enrollment according to registration statistics.

There are eighty-four enrolled in the College course alone. The Conservatory of Music announces a student body of twenty-four regulars and twenty-two specials.

In addition, the Hershey High School Summer School, has afforded fifteen prospective teachers an opportunity to acquire their practice teaching experience. They have a total of 190 students enrolled in daily classes.

from 1910 to 1920 and several times an elected delegate to the General Conference. He served also as a member of the following boards and committees: the Conference Branch, Foreign Missions Committee; the Educational Board of the Conference; the General Court of Appeals; the Committee of Social Service and Reform. At Mount Gretna, where he spent his summers, he was Secretary-Treasurer of the Camp Meeting Association. In 1916 he became a trustee of the Anti-Saloon League.

He is survived by his wife, Emma, nee Heilman; by two daughters, Mrs. Dr. Joseph Gilbert, of Landisville, and Miss Helen Butterwick, Supervisor of Music in the Annville Schools; by a brother, Oliver P. Butterwick, of York, Pa.; by two sisters, Mrs. John B. Hollinger, Lebanon, Pa., and Mrs. Edwin Aungstadt, of Reading; and by one grandchild, Barbara Louise Gilbert, of Landisville.

Stansfield Enters West Point Academy

Edward E. Stansfield, junior Business Administration major, has forsaken his career at Lebanon Valley College to enter the United States Military Academy at West Point.

Upon taking his oath, Cadet Stansfield was assigned to the seventh new cadet company of the Academy. He will be remembered on the local campus for his active participation in extra-curricular activities, many of which will definitely feel his loss.

At the close of the regular college year in June, Ed Stansfield had been elected to serve as Business Manager for the L-Book, the Quittapahilla, and La Vie Collegienne. He also served as a member of the College Band and Chorus, the Y. M. C. A. Cabinet and the Men's Senate.

L.V.C. Professors Also Saw Service In Armed Combat

While the young men in L. V. C. today are preparing themselves for military service with Uncle Sam, it is interesting to know that their college instructors before them have had a taste of the same career. A survey of the teaching staff at Lebanon Valley College's Summer School shows the following military record:

Dr. L. G. Bailey, Professor of Psychology, served in the U. S. Army from 1917 to 1919. He was with the A. E. F. for thirteen months in France.

Dr. Amos H. Black, Professor of Mathematics, was with the A. E. F., 1918-1919. It is no secret that when Dr. Black enlisted he was too young for acceptance into the army; but, anticipating his later professorial skill in juggling with figures, he found mathematical means to persuade Uncle Sam to let him fight.

Jerome W. Frock, athletic director and coach, was with the U. S. Navy from August to December, 1918.

Dr. Milton L. Stokes, Professor of Business Administration and Economics, was in the Canadian Army in 1917.

Dr. George G. Struble, Associate Professor of English, was with the U. S. Army, in the S. A. T. C. in 1918.

Dr. Paul A. W. Wallace, Professor of English, was with the Canadian Expeditionary Force, 1916-1918.

L.V.C. President & Wife Attend Lorenz Funeral

Dr. Lorenz Formerly Served L. V. Presidency

Dr. and Mrs. Clyde A. Lynch represented Lebanon Valley College at the funeral services held in Dayton, Ohio, Tuesday, July 13, for Dr. Edmund S. Lorenz, one time President of Lebanon Valley College and of recent years an internationally known publisher of Church music. Dr. Lorenz died at his home in Dayton, July 10.

Dr. J. B. Showers, of the U. B. Publishing House, was in charge of the service and delivered the main address. Prayer was offered by Rev. Roy D. Miller, of the Euclid Avenue Church, Dayton. The two sons of Dr. Lorenz, Karl and the Rev. Edward Lorenz, also assisted in the service.

Born July 13, 1854, Dr. Lorenz graduated with an A.B. degree from Otterbein College in 1880 and received his Ph.D. at Yale University in 1883. In 1936 Lebanon Valley College granted him the honor of an LL.D. degree. Also in 1936, Otterbein College presented Dr. Lorenz an honorary degree of Doctor of Music. Dr. Lorenz served the Presidency of Lebanon Valley College from 1887 to 1889, holding also the position of Professor of Mental and Moral Sciences.

Dr. Lorenz was the founder and head of the Lorenz Publishing House, and was internationally known as a composer of church music, and the author of many hymns. His most famous hymns were:

"Joy Cometh in the Morning," "The Name of Jesus is So Sweet," "Tell It to Jesus Alone," and "Thou Thinkest Lord of Me." They have been translated into many languages.

Practice Teachers End Summer School With Assembly Skit

On Friday, July 31, an assembly program in charge of the practice teachers will bring to a close the six-weeks session at the Hershey Demonstration School in Hershey.

Those practice teachers who have participated in the Demonstration School are: Mary Johns, Mary Mehaffey, Louise Keller, Martha Crone, Dorothy March, David Shaner, Pauline Smee, Frederick Frantz, Vera B. Shoop, Jacob Rhodes, Katherine Sherk, and Dennis Sherk, of L. V. C.; Mr. Ritz from Elizabethtown College; Miss Hite of Gettysburg College; and Mr. Kenney.

During the assembly period on Friday, July 24, Dennis Sherk presented his students in the one-act play, "Ladies Alone." Louise Keller has been employing her class in journalism to publish a summer edition of the "Hershey Broadcaster." The first assembly program at Hershey was in charge of Pauline Smee who presented a musical program.

Air Raid drills cause quite a bit of confusion for Mr. Kenney. When the air raid alarm was sounded for a recent drill, all of the classes marched rapidly and orderly to their assigned shelter. All of the practice teachers were present but Mr. Kenney. After several minutes he appeared carrying his books and brief case. It was learned that he misunderstood the alarm to be a dismissal bell.

A heavy schedule of studies has proven itself anti-romantic. Ted and Louise seemed to find it extremely difficult to get together.

Mary Mehaffey expressed her attitude toward teaching in the following words: "I love it."

Martha Davies '42 Accepts Position

Martha Davies, '42, past editor of La Vie Collegienne, and her college room mate, Phoebe Geyer, are at present employed by the Prudential Life Insurance Company in their offices in Metropolitan, New Jersey.

Rosanna Brandt, '42, has been granted a teaching position at Thompson, Pennsylvania. She will teach English, Latin and Music.

Joseph Fauber, '41, has forsaken his teaching career to enter the United States Marines. He is now undergoing his basic training with the "fighting leathernecks" at Parris Island.

Fifi Fisher, Marjorie Frantz and Eleanor Zeigler are employed as waitresses at Ocean Grove, New Jersey.

Overlooked in the last issue of La Vie Collegienne was the fact that Paul Moyer is also among the L. V. C. students employed at Hershey Park. Bill McKnight, '41, is whiling his summer away as a life guard in the Park Pool. He will return to Jefferson Medical College in the fall.

Alice Richie, daughter of Dr. G. A. Richie and L. V. C. graduate, has been elected to the post of Librarian at Bonebrake Theological Seminary.

Flight Sergeant FRANK LENNON

The first on L. V. C.'s War Honor Roll

Flight Sergeant Lennon Killed Fighting With R. C. A. F.

The students of Lebanon Valley College Summer School paid their last respects on Thursday, July 23, to Frank Lennon, first representative of the college to pay the supreme sacrifice in the present war. Dean A. H. M. Stonecipher was in charge of the service.

Flight Sergeant Frank Lennon was killed in action while on duty with the Royal Canadian Air Force. Further details are unavailable.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. John Joseph Lennon, Clifton, New Jersey, Lennon studied at L. V. C. during the 1937-38 and 1938-39 college terms. In 1937 and 1938 he served as a member of the Blue and White football squad, playing a halfback position. In January, 1940, he enlisted in the Royal Canadian Air Force.

The last known facts of Lennon's location revealed that he had been dispatched to active duty somewhere in England. A joint message from the War Department and the R. C. A. F. on July 20, informed his parents of the casualty.

Theodore Youse '42 was married on Tuesday, July 14, to Frances Menier, a registered nurse at the Elizabethtown Quarantine Hospital. The ceremony was performed at Pine Grove by the bridegroom's brother, Rev. John Youse. Following a brief honeymoon, Ted left for Philadelphia where he entered the United States Marines on Tuesday, July 21. Ted will be remembered for his performances with the Blue and White basketball teams of several seasons ago.

Nellie Morrison '39 and Staff Sergeant Vincent Nagle were united in marriage on Saturday, July 18, in the Minersville Baptist Church by the Rev. E. Theodore Lewis. The bridegroom also attended Lebanon Valley College. He is now stationed at Aberdeen Proving Ground where the newly weds will reside. Helen Morrison '43, sister of the bride, was maid of honor.

Hazel Heminway '38 became the bride of John Muth '36 on Saturday, July 4, in Old Swedes Church, Philadelphia. Ruth Heminway '42, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Following a New York honeymoon, the bride and groom took residence at Elizabeth Manor, Upper Darby. The groom is employed by the Philadelphia Quartz Company, Chester.

Permelia Rose '26 was married July 14, to D. Victor Emanuel, Athletic Coach at William Penn High School,

Four L.V.C. Alumni Serve As Chaplains

It is of interest to note that there are at least four alumni of Lebanon Valley College who are serving their country in the capacity of army chaplains.

Those serving in such posts are Captain DeWitt Philo Zuse, '26, of West Fairview; First Lieutenant Earl E. Wolfe, '31, of Philadelphia; Russell G. Bechtel, '29, of Silver Springs; and William Henry Quaid.

In other branches of the Army, it is noted that Eugene Shenk has recently been promoted to the rank of First Lieutenant following his graduation from officers' training school.

Lewis Reinhold, a member of the class of '45, prior to Pearl Harbor, has received his P. F. C. stripe with the Army. George Katchmer, '40, has been raised to the rank of Staff Sergeant at Camp Livingston, Louisiana. Latest reports on Sergeant Katchmer indicate that he has been named a candidate for the Officers School of the Army Air Corps.

Dr. Stine Will Assist In Delinquency Study

Dr. Clyde S. Stine, Professor of Education, has been named a member of the committee to study juvenile delinquency in Lebanon County. It has been noted that juvenile delinquency has increased, particularly among the girls, since the large-scale development of the military camp at Indian-town Gap. The committee of which Dr. Stine is a member has been instructed to make a long range study of the existing condition so that proper precautions may be taken in the future.

● In Memoriam

On Thursday, July 23, we paid our immediate respects to the memory of Flight Sergeant Frank Lennon, L. V. C.'s first supreme sacrifice in the present war. But, our memorial does not end here. We have a permanent duty to perform.

Inasmuch as Lennon's death is but a reminder of similar incidents in the future we dare not turn pessimist. We dare not even pray that God preserve L. V. C. students and alumni in the service. This is the first step toward pessimism. What's more, it is naught but contemptible greed for us to entertain such ideas.

On the contrary, then, we must accept Lennon's sacrifice as our challenge in the days ahead. While men are criticising the Army and Navy reserve officer plans we are taking advantage of them. Inspired by our challenge we must make the most of our privilege. Uncle Sam is gambling on our being more worth to him after we have finished our college careers. Let us not give him a foul toss. Those who have accelerated their programs of study to bring graduation a semester nearer are to be congratulated. They exemplify the spirit that is needed in accepting our recent challenge.

It is not for us to wave flags, sing the "Star Spangled Banner," earn high wages, and complacently accept life's leisure. But it is our duty to give Uncle Sam his money's worth by developing our bodies and minds to the utmost. Then when he calls us we are prepared to do the most good for our country.

Thus we can permanently commemorate the death of Flight Sergeant Frank Lennon, killed in action with the Royal Canadian Air Force somewhere on the Allied war front.

● Our Appreciation

Those of us who have been reading the newspapers regularly this summer have noticed, among other things, frequent references to Lebanon Valley College, her students and her alumni. This means only that the Publicity Department, personalized by Dr. P. A. W. Wallace, has been on the alert.

We can show our appreciation to Dr. Wallace for his untiring efforts by placing every bit of publishable information concerning L. V. C. students and alumni at his disposal. Still further we can clear our minds of the idea that our Profs from the highest to the lowest are old foggies and that our campus is but a two-by-four dump. As evidence of our mental housecleaning and spiritual reformation we can make it our pleasure to sing the praises of L. V. C. when we are off-campus.

DISC DATA

Franz Josef Hayden was destined to lead a very profitable life even tho his beginning was far from glorious, and he knew the sting of poverty felt by most musicians of his day. A self-taught artist, Hayden climbed to the height of musical success, being sponsored by the famous Esterhazy family; and making two extremely successful tours to London. His London visits brought him not only fame as a composer, but also enough money to keep him the rest of his life in comparative comfort. The fame he rightly gained in England spread to the continent until publishers and theatre managers fought for the privilege of producing his work.

Although not a musical revolutionary like Beethoven, Hayden did make many significant changes in the symphonic form. In his day a composition could be termed a symphony if it required more than three musicians to perform it. After Hayden was through with it, the symphony had a more definite form with more specific terms to describe it. "Papa Josef" wrote a staggering total of one hundred and four symphonies showing a life of intense labor. The Symphony No. 99 is expressive of Hayden's style. It portrays his philosophy of a simple, joyous life with a devotion to God at whose thought he was thrilled and able to transfer his feeling into his music.

Harrisburg. The wedding took place in the United Brethren Church at Frederick, Maryland. The bride taught in the Middletown High School and the John Harris High School, Harrisburg. The newly weds will reside in Harrisburg.

On Saturday, July 18, Sarah McEwen and Dr. James Miller were married by the Rev. Rodney Brace in the St. Luke's Episcopal Church, Lebanon. Both are graduates of Lebanon Valley College. Dr. Miller is a graduate of the Jefferson Medical School. Mrs. Miller is a graduate of the Jefferson Hospital Training School for Nurses. Dr. Miller will report to the Carlisle Barracks on August 1, to commence his training as a medical corps officer.

MIDSHIPMEN GIVEN ORDNANCE INSTRUCTION ABOARD U.S. NAVY TRAINING SHIP

The Navy's V-1 Accredited College program serves as a feeder for deck or engineering officers (V-7) and for aviation officers (V-5). Freshmen and Sophomores who enlist in the Navy's Class V-1 and qualify for deck or engineering officers training will be sent to a training school as midshipmen and will receive an intensive course in seamanship, ordnance and navigation.

Midshipmen, who can be identified by the dark band on their hats, are pictured here as they receive ordnance instruction aboard the U.S.S. Prairie State.

Now Don't Say I Told You, But...

----- We find in every room a calendar bearing chalked off days—methinks the pursuers of knowledge within these ivy-covered walls are beginning to be a-wearying of a-waking and a-walking and a-warbling. Yes, indeed, since the fruits of our first six weeks labors have been gathered we can't decide whether to keep on polishing the apple or give it the raspberries.

----- The gala opening of the Astor Theatre provided a splendid opportunity for the L. V. celebrities to escape the half-hour seige sans illumination—alias the blackout—Altho' they escaped the darkness, dampness was on its heels and the results were a complete drenching for everyone.

----- Martha Wilt, who was all spruced up to see Sam, had a soaked coiffure but it failed to dampen her spirits.

----- We've noticed that the mutual musical appreciation mentioned in the last issue (Charlotte and Abbie to you) has turned into a regular occurrence.

----- FLASH! McGeehen works off hair and Gollam was so sleepy he failed to notice the absence of Sally's raven tresses until he had trucked half way across campus.

----- Asthma scores again!—for Sally & Fritsche we mean—despite the tire and gas situation they certainly manage to get around in that four-wheeled chariot.

----- A sixty-four dollar question!—Is that pink striped affair Bob Goode wears really his pajama top?

----- Dottie Jean is still scribbling a letter a day to old man Moe in Chicago—and Grubies doesn't do a bad job of writing the latest chatter and patter home to her "friend from Ephrata."

----- We'd like to know where the lump from Dot Krall's swollen jaw went to?—the same place your lap goes when you stand up, I s'pose.

----- Have you heard Yannaconne's latest—"the fruit salad song"—CHERRY to you or shall we say to Cox?

----- Marian Kreider and Bud Hughes are still seeing each other—but, yes! That goes for Trautman and Kern, too.

----- Could anybody tell us what Tommy Reed and Walt Disney have in common or do we mean what they will have in common?

----- "Mike" Intrieri paid us a visit over the week-end.

----- Jane Baker was also in this vicinity—remember her?

----- The news is few and far between this time. 'Sapity someone doesn't create some scandal, won't anyone volunteer? That's all—s'long for now!

Dr. Lynch Improved After Attack of Laryngitis

Since his return from the funeral of Dr. Lorenz, Dr. Clyde A. Lynch, President of Lebanon Valley College, has been nursing a severe cold and an attack of laryngitis. It is encouraging to note his rapid convalescence.

Dr. Stonecipher Attends Torch Club Convention

Dr. A. H. M. Stonecipher, Dean of Lebanon Valley College, spent June 25, 26, 27 in Grand Rapids, Michigan, at the 18th Annual Convention of the International Torch Clubs. He was the delegate representing the Harrisburg Torch Club at the convention. Taking a circuitous journey home, Dr. Stonecipher visited his mother in Tennessee.

FACTS ABOUT NAVY V-1 at L. V. C.

The Navy's V-1 Plan under which Freshmen and Sophomores from 17 through 19 years of age can continue their courses and prepare to become officers in the Naval Reserve has been accepted by our school. Hundreds of colleges and universities are backing the Navy's V-1 program, and thousands of students in other schools have already enlisted under this plan.

Only 80,000 men will be accepted annually for this training, but the Navy wants these men to be fully acquainted with all V-1 details before enlistment. Many questions have been asked. In this column we will answer those most frequently asked and in addition carry informative articles covering all phases of V-1 activities. Some questions asked are:

Q. When will the first V-1 competitive examination be given?

A. March of 1943 is the date set for the first V-1 competitive examination. Sophomores under 20 years of age who enroll in V-1 this year will complete, at a minimum, the major part of their Junior year.

Q. May an applicant be accepted for the V-1 program if he has a physical defect?

A. Yes, providing the defect is of a remedial nature. Such defects must be corrected before his examination.

Q. If a man enrolls in V-1 with a remedial defect and later is disqualified for physical reasons, what is his status?

A. Physical disqualification will permit a V-1 enlistee to withdraw from the Naval Reserve and select his own branch of service. However, each case of physical disqualification will be examined individually by the Navy and men must explain why they were unable to correct remedial defects.

Q. If a man enlists in V-1 and is currently in his Sophomore year, when must he meet his physical requirements?

A. He must meet his physical requirements before taking his V-1 competitive examination, March, 1943.

Q. If a man enrolls in V-1, fails in his competitive examination and enters the Navy as an enlisted man, does he still have an opportunity to obtain a commission as an officer?

A. Yes. Following preliminary training as an apprentice seaman, the enlisted man will be given the opportunity to obtain petty officer's rating. After one year in the Navy he can be recommended for officer's training school. In that event he may obtain his commission before his former college classmates.

Q. Will the same V-1 enlistment quota of 80,000 Freshmen and Sophomores apply in 1943 and 1944?

A. Yes. The Navy currently plans to accept 80,000 V-1 enlistments annually.

Q. What is the Navy's advice for a student who had planned to study medicine?

A. A freshman or sophomore preparing to enter medical school, who wants to go into the Navy Medical Corps, should enlist in V-1 immediately. If he is admitted to medical school he will automatically go into a special class for Naval Reserve Medical Corps Officers and will continue with his studies until he has been given his medical degree.
